Hotel Monaco Alexandria Fact Sheet

LOCATION

Hotel Monaco Alexandria is located in Alexandria's Old Town neighborhood on King Street. Just ten minutes from Washington DC, it's where rich American history meets high style and genuine hospitality on the banks of the Potomac. Guests at the Monaco savor a four-star experience in the midst of a thriving commercial district known for its historic charm as well as its artful revival. In addition to an abundance of restaurants, inviting boutiques and unique attractions, Alexandria offers easy access to nearby Mt. Vernon, the Washington Convention Center, Verizon Center, National Harbor, and the King Street Metro Station. Nearby airports include: Ronald Reagan National Airport (DCA), 3 miles; Dulles International (IAD) 35 miles; Baltimore-Washington International (BWI) 50 miles.

HOTEL FACTS

- The six-story red brick building underwent significant interior and exterior renovations in 2007, transforming the property into Alexandria's premier four-star boutique hotel
- The site on which the Monaco resides was once the Marshall House, said to be the location of the altercation that officially launched the Civil War

AMBIANCE

Under the design direction of acclaimed Beverly Hills Interior Designers Cheryl Rowley and Bob LeCoeur, Hotel Monaco Alexandria pays homage to Alexandria's rich and storied Colonial and Civil War past with a playful, contemporary wink. Defined by stylish details, luscious colors and textures throughout, the Monaco's personality first presents itself in the domed lobby/living room where a custom chandelier of multicolored silk pods and blown glass clusters spreads a warm glow over cozy sofas and over-sized chairs and a leopard pattern painted fireplace. Guestrooms are rich in amenities and special features, including unique two-level loft suites and 28 terrace rooms with balconies.
